The Business Way!
The business way
to advertise is to take space by the year, take pains with your advertisements in making them attractive, and change them at least as often as once a month.
You may think there are reasons when you don't need to advertise.
We have never seen that time.
Use the dull seasons for looking over your stock and running off that which is becoming out of style or unfashionable, and giving bargains.
If you have space by the year, it costs you no more, and you can make it profitable by converting available goods into money, and reinvesting the money in those things which are salable.

The wages of the workmen of the big Oils steel Company, Cleveland, O., have been reduced ten to twenty per cent.
They are realizing the fact that there has been a change.

The biggest fools appear to be the free silver fools. A few months ago a party of them out in Arizona burned President Cleveland in effigy, because he is opposed to their nonsensical notions. That will hurt them far more than it will the President.

The Democratic demagogues promise the people that the restoration of their party to complete control of the National Government would mean increased prosperity. The people who demagogues at their word, and the people have today one million dollars less personal property than they had on March 4th.

It is stated at the Treasury department that the "advisability of withdrawing from the public the statements heretofore given out through the press of the amount of bullion purchased and the prices paid for it is under consideration." It should be done by all means.
As this is a Democratic Administration that doesn't know what it is doing, let it oughtn't to try to inform the public of what is going on.

SAY, SONNY, you fellow that edits The Bulletin out on Second street! You have been doing an immense amount of howling about a "Chinese wall" and "markets of the world." The reports of what the past week were larger than they have been, with four exceptions, for any single week in the history of the export trade of the United States. This country's trade with the "Chinese wall" of the United States does it "markets of the world," does it? We're afraid all your fine-spun theories have been knocked into a cocked hat by this great and glorious Democratic Administration!

RUN DOWN.

A Train Crashes Into a Crowded Street Car.

Three Persons Killed and a Number of Others Injured.

The Accident Occurs at a Dangerous Crossing in the City. The Street Car Hit by Fully Fifty Feet From the Point Where It Was Struck.

CHICAGO, July 15.—An in-coming passenger train on the Grand Trunk road ran down a crowded street car Monday night, killing three people and injuring a number of others. The dead were Thomas Perkins, Margaret Murphy and an unidentified boy. The injured were Mrs. Pahlman, left leg broken and internally injured, may die; Mrs. Jas. Sanderson, head and body bruised; J. C. Smith, internally injured, and skull fractured, may die; Mrs. Celia Mitchell, bruised about the body; Mrs. A. L. Lucas, bruised about the head and body; Mrs. Vanderberg, head and body bruised, Frank Vanderberg, her three-year-old son, head and body bruised, Jennie Blackie, head and shoulders cut.

The collision occurred at the Forty-ninth street crossing, which is a network of tracks, and has always been regarded as a dangerous crossing. A long freight train going west had just passed, and the trolley man, George Harnett, had raised the gates. This was taken as a signal that the way was clear, and Driver Stainelaker started to drive across the tracks. The passenger train was stopped on the east side of the crossing, and just as the car reached the track, it struck it squarely in the center. The car was turned circled around, and hurled fully thirty feet from the point where it was struck.
Some of the passengers managed to save themselves by jumping, but the majority were caught. Perkins was frantically mangled. A piece of timber was forced into his throat, breaking his jaw.

The passenger train was in charge of Conductor John Kern, Engineer E. W.
Jones and Fireman James Campbell.
Engineer Jones said that he did not see the street car until the horses were in front of the train, and then he could not possibly have stopped in time to avoid the accident. Police Captain Ward arrested Engineer Jones, Fireman Campbell and a man named Henry Hughes, who was riding in the back of the car. They will be held until after the coroner's inquest.

The tower man, George Barnett, who raised the gates and allowed the car to come upon the track, said: "I raised the gate after the freight train had gone west, and did not see the approaching passenger train until it was close upon me. I lowered the gates, but it was too late then."

No Cause of Yellow Fever.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Surgeon General Wynnan, of the Marine hospital series, Monday morning received a telegram from Surgeon Ferry at Cape Charles, Va., stating that there was no case of yellow fever on the island, and that the quarantine at the quarantine hospital were improving. The bilharz from the vessel was discharged Sunday.
All the compartments were disinfected Monday, and in the afternoon they were thoroughly disinfected with sulphur dioxide, bichloride of mercury being freely used.

Killed by Lightning.
ATLANTA, Ga., July 15.—At Camberland Island, (corporal John W. Burke, of the Marine volunteers, who are in camp there, was in his tent alone. He suddenly there was a blinding flash of lightning followed by a terrific crash of thunder and his blinded comrades were horrified by seeing the body of corporal Burke dashed from the tent.
The bolt struck the tent pole, and running downward struck the young volunteer, tore his shoes off and buried him out of the tent a corpse.

The Detroit to Be Commissioned.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—The cruiser Detroit was commissioned Monday afternoon by the navy department, and will be commissioned on the 20th of July. The commissioning ceremony has not yet been arranged for her first cruise.
The date for the first trial of the cruiser Columbia has not been set, but will be about the 27th of this month.

Ala. and Others to Be Indicted.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—J. H. Barrell, the latest witness summoned by the grand jury in the investigation of the recent disaster in the Ford's theater, was examined Monday. It is said that the indictments will be returned within the next two days against Alabama and others in charge of the building.

Two Kansas City Banks Fail.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 15.—The Bank of Credit Avenue and the Mutual national bank, both of which were closed Monday. They are both local institutions. Nearly all the banks in the city were heavily drawn on last week by depositors, and for a time a panic reigned.

Wiped Out by a Typhoon.
GENEVA, July 15.—A terrible cyclone has completely wiped out the village of Engelberg, Canton Unterwalden. The ancient abbey, which has withstood the ravages of centuries, was raised from the mountain, and several of the best diamonds missing, resulting there narrowly escaped death.

TO THE NORTH.

Preparations for Another Arctic Exploring Expedition.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Preparations are being made for another Arctic exploring expedition from this country.
It is proposed, however, to make a search for the North Pole, but instead of undertaking so hazardous an expedition, the exploring party will confine itself to obtaining information concerning the unexplored territory north of Baffin bay and westward into Elliott's land and Grinnell land.
The expedition will be under the leadership of Mr. Robt. Stein, of the geological survey. Mr. Stein proposes to start with a party of not less than eight men, and will take a whaling steamer from John, in August, to Jones sound.

Here a fireproof house will be erected and stocked with provisions enough to last two years. The course pursued by former explorers will not be changed and the party will follow the coast of Elliott's land in a westward direction. Observations will be made with the most approved apparatus and the magnetic phenomena will be studied.

Head Inspectors Appointed.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Secretary Morton's effort to reduce the expenditure of his department by cutting off the inspectors of meat intended for export purposes has not been absolutely successful. Representative McGowan, of Chicago, called upon Secretary Morton and asked him to change his mind.
The inspection of the meat that is sent abroad, Mr. McGowan declared, is necessary if the confidence of purchasers is to be retained, and on the part of the meat dealers of Chicago he urged the secretary to re-establish at once the system of careful inspection. In conpliance with the request, and acting upon the recommendation of Mr. Mc-Gowan, Secretary Morton appointed three head inspectors for duty at Chicago.

The Alliance Goes to Corinto.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Telegraphic orders have been sent to Commander Whiting, commander of the U. S. Alliance, now at Calla, Peru, to proceed with the vessel to Corinto, the port on the west coast of Nicaragua, nearest to Loan, where the latest revolution is at its height. Commander Whiting is instructed simply to see all possible distinction in going to Corinto, and to protect American interests. It will take at least a week to make the trip.

The Scheme Disclosed.
ALBANY, N. Y., July 15.—Walter N.
Thayer, warden of the Clinton prison, Monday related to the press the scheme of a number of long-term prisoners confined in his prison to gain their freedom, which included the cold-blooded murder of several of the guards. One who was asked to enter the plot failed in his attempt, and was thru the prison authorities because of his desperate plan.

Will Soon Be Free.
COLUMBIA, O., July 15.—Gov. McKinley Monday evening commuted the life sentence of Jonathan Whitaker, of Lorain county, to fourteen years, on condition of his imprisonment. Whitaker was received at the penitentiary in 1870, and the commutation will effect his release early next month. His crime was the murder of his father.

A Second Comet.
SAN JOSE, Cal., July 15.—An important discovery regarding the comet has been made at Lick Observatory. Photographic plates reveal the fact that the comet is not alone in its glory, but has a companion. The second comet is enveloped in the tail of the first, and shows distinctly as a nebulous-like condensation.

Virtue of the Iowa Tornado.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 15.—Roy Kreier, son of the Iowan brought from Pon-roy, died at the Samaritan hospital Monday. His death, with that of August Meyer at Pomeroy, makes the total fatalities of the Iowa torнадо forty-nine, and that, with other points, seventy-four.

Probably Good Looking.
WOODS HOLE, Mass., July 15.—It was discovered Monday that James, a wealthy New Yorker, has been systematically robbed by a pretty featured woman. The young lady was surnamed with the other servants, and over $500 worth of jewelry and money was found. Jones refuses to prosecute.

Died of Hydrophobia.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Miss Lizzie Byrum, aged nineteen years, daughter of A. J. Byrum, a manufacturer of patent medicines at Newark, died at her summer home here Monday morning of hydrophobia, the result of a bite from a pet dog inflicted early last April.

Leaked Stanford's Will.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The will of the late Leland Stanford was admitted to probate Monday by Judge Coffey, of the superior court. Letters of administration were granted to Mrs. Stanford, who will serve as executrix without bond.

The Immortal J. N. Drowned.
ST. LOUIS, July 15.—The immortal J. N. Drowned, who for a past quarter of a century has been "hitting the veil," and has been a familiar figure in all parts of the United States, is reported drowned, but particulars have not been received.

The First Case.
CHARLESTON, S. C., July 15.—The first case of Cholera, the first man arrested under the dispensary law, began Monday morning. The discussion was on legal points entirely, and the case went over until Tuesday.

Appointed Regent.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 15.—Gov.
MacCorkle appointed Hon. James H.
Stewart, of Putnam county, and J. W.
Holliday, of Boone county, regents of the state university.

OHIO RELICS.

A Mean Thief Plunders the Exhibit at the Fair.

The Seoundrel Took Eight Valuable Historical Medals.

Four of Them Are of Solid Gold and Four of Solid Silver—They Can Be Sold as Descriptions of Them Have Been Sent All Over the Country.

CINCINNATI, July 18.—Hitherto the petty thieves and robbers have steered clear of all Ohio exhibits, and no complaints had been filed with the Columbian authorities since the fair opened until Monday afternoon, when Mr. A. A. Graham, of the Ohio ethnological exhibit, came rushing in chief of Detectives Benfield's office, relating to him the particulars of a bold robbery at the anthropological building. The Ohio Historical society has one of the finest ethnological exhibits at the World's fair, and consequently has some highly valuable relics concerning the history of the early Ohio dwellers among their exhibits. Besides keeping in view the primitive man and his remnants, this society has a watchful eye on all prominent Ohio men of modern times. Thus are valuable materials for the student of history has been gathered. Among the more modern exhibits of the society is also a beautiful bronze case about twelve inches square, which contains eight medals, four of solid gold and four solid silver. Two of the gold medals represent Garfield, while the two other gold medals represented Grant. The four silver medals are also representations of prominent Ohio men. This case, together with the eight medals, was placed in a very conspicuous position in front of the society's exhibits. The medals had great historical value, aside from the worth of the metal, since they had been made by special act of congress at the United States mint at Philadelphia, and were presented to the Ohio Ethnological society last fall. Some mean thief, having taken advantage of the society's absence, unlocked the case and made away with it before any one had time to notice the deed. Prof. Putnam and Mr. A. A. Graham, Columbus, who have charge of the exhibit, have little hope of recovering the medals. They can not be sold, however, since descriptions of the medals have been sent all over the country.

Prof. Putnam is quite broken up concerning the theft, and blames it on the small number of guards stationed at this building, there being but one for the entire gallery where the Ohio exhibit is located. The Columbian guards and Kentucky's cavalry, which will spare no effort to restore these valuable medals to the rightful owners.

Officially Denial.
BIRMINGHAM, July 18.—It is officially denied that the dispatch from Rome printed in some of the Catholic papers, and purporting that the German government assured the Vatican that it would not object to the readmission of the Jesuits, is correct. The report was probably circulated for the purpose of fanning out how the German press and people regard the matter of the proposed readmission of the Jesuits. Now that the government has been victorious in the matter of the Jesuits, there is little reason for supposing that it would compromise itself.

A Valuable Stallion.
NEW YORK, July 18.—The great thoroughbred stallion, Modeller, the choicest bit of horseflesh belonging to the stud of the late Squire Abingdon Baird, arrived on the White Star liner from Liverpool Monday. He was quartered just amidships, and arrived in excellent condition. Mllecom Forbes, of Boston, Mass., purchased Modeller at the recent sale in London, paying $75,000 for the stallion.

An Absconder.
BIRMINGHAM, July 18.—One of the most intimate friends of the Kaiser, and the younger members of the aristocracy, Count Douglas, a feudal land owner of importance, mourns the loss of his business manager, Herr Miller, who is accused with half a million of marks. It is surmised that Miller is on the way to the Chicago fair. The American police have been notified.

MAJ. E. W. HALFORD.
WASHINGTON, July 18.—Major E. W. Halford, U. S. A., has practically closed his accounts with the state department as disbursing officer of the Behring sea arbitration commission and will leave here in a few days for his new station at Omaha, Neb. Gen. J. W. Foster, the American officer, will act as disbursing officer of the commission from now until the case is closed.

EMPEROR WILLIAM

Will Not Attend the World's Fair, But Will Send His Brother.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Imperial German Commissioner Wermuth, of Germany, who leaves Tuesday for his native land, gave a banquet Monday night at the Auditorium to the World's fair officers, foreign commissioners and prominent citizens to a total of 400. It has been extensively reported that the object of his return to Germany was to act as the personal representative of the emperor, who, however, is not expected to visit the fair in September. This, however, is denied on no less an authority than that of the German legation at Washington.

It is understood, however, that the prince of Schleswig-Holstein, brother-in-law of the emperor, will arrive in this country within the next six weeks as the personal representative of the emperor to the World's fair. He will be practically an imperial delegate, the German emperor having several times during the present summer expressed a desire to honor in some way the Germans who have crossed the water and who, while having made this country their home, are still loyal in their professions toward the ruling powers of their own country.

BERMUDA GARDEN TRUCK.

Members of the Assembly Pleading for a Lower Tariff.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Thomas J. Watson and Samuel C. Mackers, members of the Bermuda assembly, arrived from Bermuda on the steamship Orizoco Sunday, and will go to Washington this week to confer on the tariff question with some of the congressmen who are likely to serve on the ways and means committee of the house.

They have been delegated by the Bermuda assembly to ask for a reduction in the duty levied here on potatoes, cucumbers and tomatoes, the principal exports of the islands to the United States. They have prepared a statement to be submitted to the ways and means committee, in which they say that the amount of duty paid to the United States in 1892 exceeds the entire tariff revenue of the islands by $15,000.

Mr. Mackers and Mr. Watson said they did not yet know what reduction they would ask for. They wished, however, maturing their plans, to confer with New York business men and with Senator Mills and congressman W. L. Wilson.

EXACT WORDS

Used by Van Loan in His Courtroom—The Murder of Van Loan—A Robbery—His Own Account.

COLUMBUS, O., July 18.—The exact words of the confession made by Frank Van Loan, who was charged with the murder of Van Loan, a robbery, and his own account.

The confession was made on the day after the trial ended, and while Van Loan was in jail at Ottawa. Van Loan said:

"Well, they have found me guilty, and I confess that I am the man who did it, but I did not intend to kill any one and it should be murder in second degree. God knows that the killing of Van Loan was an accident, and I have lain in the woods and cried by the hour over the death of that man. I wanted money and thought I could get it by committing robbery only. I want you to tell the governor this, and intercede with him for me."

WILL BOOM IT.

Beligious Rights on the World's Fair—Fully Eight Hundred Jobs in a Movement to Assist.

CINCINNATI, July 18.—Capt. E. R. Monk, of the Herald and Freeholder, said Monday, concerning the Sunday closing of the World's fair: "The religious newspapers, fully 500 in number, scattered all over the United States, now propose to join hands and boom the World's fair. Hereafter these papers have been doing all in their power to further Sunday closing, and have followed the plan of non-attendance of Christians at the exposition."

Following out the latest plan of action the Herald and Freeholder, the Western Christian Advocate and the Journal and Messenger will this week commence booming the fair editorially, and doing their utmost to encourage freethinkers, Methodists and Baptists to attend.

RUSSIA.

Her Permanent Naval Station at New York Welcomes.

Warm Friendship Between American Officers and the Czar's Men.

Some Striking Remarks Made by a Russian Officer—The Russian Navy—The Most Powerful Battleship Which Will Have Entered New York.

New York, July 18.—The Timesways almost to a unit the Russian officers were delighted with the news that Russia would have a permanent station here, though it was remarked by several that the information was as wise a surprise. From what could be gleaned the officers of the Russian vessels regard the permanent maintenance of a fleet of their own ships in American waters as the most certain way to accustom a feeling of comradeship between the officers of the navy of the United States and that of Russia.

Russian officers now here, when in conversation with United States officers, have pointed out that England is the greatest enemy of the United States of America. They refer to history in their arguments to prove this assertion and declare no less events have demonstrated a sincerely friendly regard on the part of the British government for that of the United States. These remarks, they declare, are in England the natural enemy of the United States and the greatest enemy Russia possesses, then the United States of America and Russia are by the very nature of things bound in friendship against a common foe.

The Russian officers here argue that from geographical reasons and the extent of territory of the two countries the signs all point to Russia and the United States finally possessing the entire world.

"You have," said one prominent officer in the Russian fleet within the last few days, to a reporter, "you will see west. We have our wild east. You are settling up and developing the wild west. We are doing likewise with our wild east. Soon your wild west and our wild east will meet. The meeting will be to your westward and our eastward."

He knows that but some day your two countries may be neighbors and meet, save for the intervening Pacific to your westward and to our eastward."

An American officer, in discussing the announced proposition of the Russian government, said that speaking for himself and knowing the opinions of the majority of his own particular circle of brother officers, there existed, though perhaps through a sense of gratitude arising from a strong liking for the Russians, and that the more the Russian and American officers were thrown together the more they appeared to recognize and realize a strong feeling of comradeship.

In view, he added, of what appeared to be a close diplomatic understanding between the two governments of Russia and the United States, and the natural inference that an understanding on certain broad lines exists on the part of the two nations, the maintenance of such an understanding would seem to justify the cultivation of a close acquaintance between Russian and American officers.

The officers of both services, he believed, might profit professionally by a knowledge of the respective naval policies practiced in the two fleets, and the mutual knowledge might be of immense future benefit to Russia and the United States. The maintenance of Russia of a permanent fleet of warships in the United States waters is not understood here by either American or Russian officers to mean that the Russian fleet will remain continuously in New York waters. New York is understood to be the selected port for the two countries to report of supplies, but New York will be visited only so often as, in the opinion of the Russian flag officer in command, is deemed advisable.
